

ECCK HR & Compliance Forum: Labour & Employment Law update 2022

EVENT OUTLINE

The pandemic which has persisted over the past few years has brought about many changes in workplace practices and policies. In order to increase the business performance and operational efficiency, it is of vital importance for the industry to be aware of pertinent labour trends and recent regulations.

For the first session of HR & Compliance forum, ECCK prepared an overall update on the 2022 Labour and Employment Law which can provide an overview of important legal developments from 2021 and new law development impacting employers in 2022. We warmly welcome all HR and Compliance experts of ECCK members to attend and hear from expert speakers.

SPEAKERS

Anthony CHANG
Senior foreign attorney
Shin & Kim

Mr. Anthony CHANG is a senior foreign attorney at Shin & Kim and a member of the Labour and Employment Practice Group. He has a wide range of experience in HR matters both as in-house and as outside counsel. Anthony was the head of the Korea law department for a multi-national corporation (Fortune 100) as well as a member of the senior management team for the Korean affiliate. His work experience both in-house, with a strong business perspective, and with law firms in Korea and the U.S. helps bridge the gap in helping to find practical solutions to complex and uncertain HR and corporate issues. He is admitted in New York, Massachusetts and Missouri and has over 20 years of experience in Korea, the U.S. and Hong Kong.

Katie Younglee TAK
Foreign attorney
Shin & Kim

Ms. Katie Younglee TAK is a foreign attorney at Shin & Kim and a member of the Labour and Employment Practice Group. Her practice concentrates on advising international and domestic clients in a range of labour and employment law matters. Ms. Tak's legal experience includes working at a financial firm in New York City where her work centered on representing financial institutions involved in some of the largest lawsuits arising from the 2008 financial crisis. Prior to pursuing a legal career, Ms. Tak worked at the Korea Development Institute (KDI), where she designed and implemented policy consultation projects tailored for each developing country selected under the Knowledge Sharing Program (KSP) – Korean government-sponsored consulting program to share Korea's socioeconomic development experience.

Young-Seok KI
Partner
Shin & Kim

Mr. Young-Seok KI is a partner at Shin & Kim and head of the Labour and Employment Practice Group. His main areas of practice include labour and employment matters, labour disputes, corporate governance, mergers & acquisitions, hostile takeovers and general corporate transactions. Mr. Ki received a LL.M. from University of Washington School of Law and worked as a foreign associate at Allens Arthur Robinson's Ho Chi Minh office in Vietnam.
